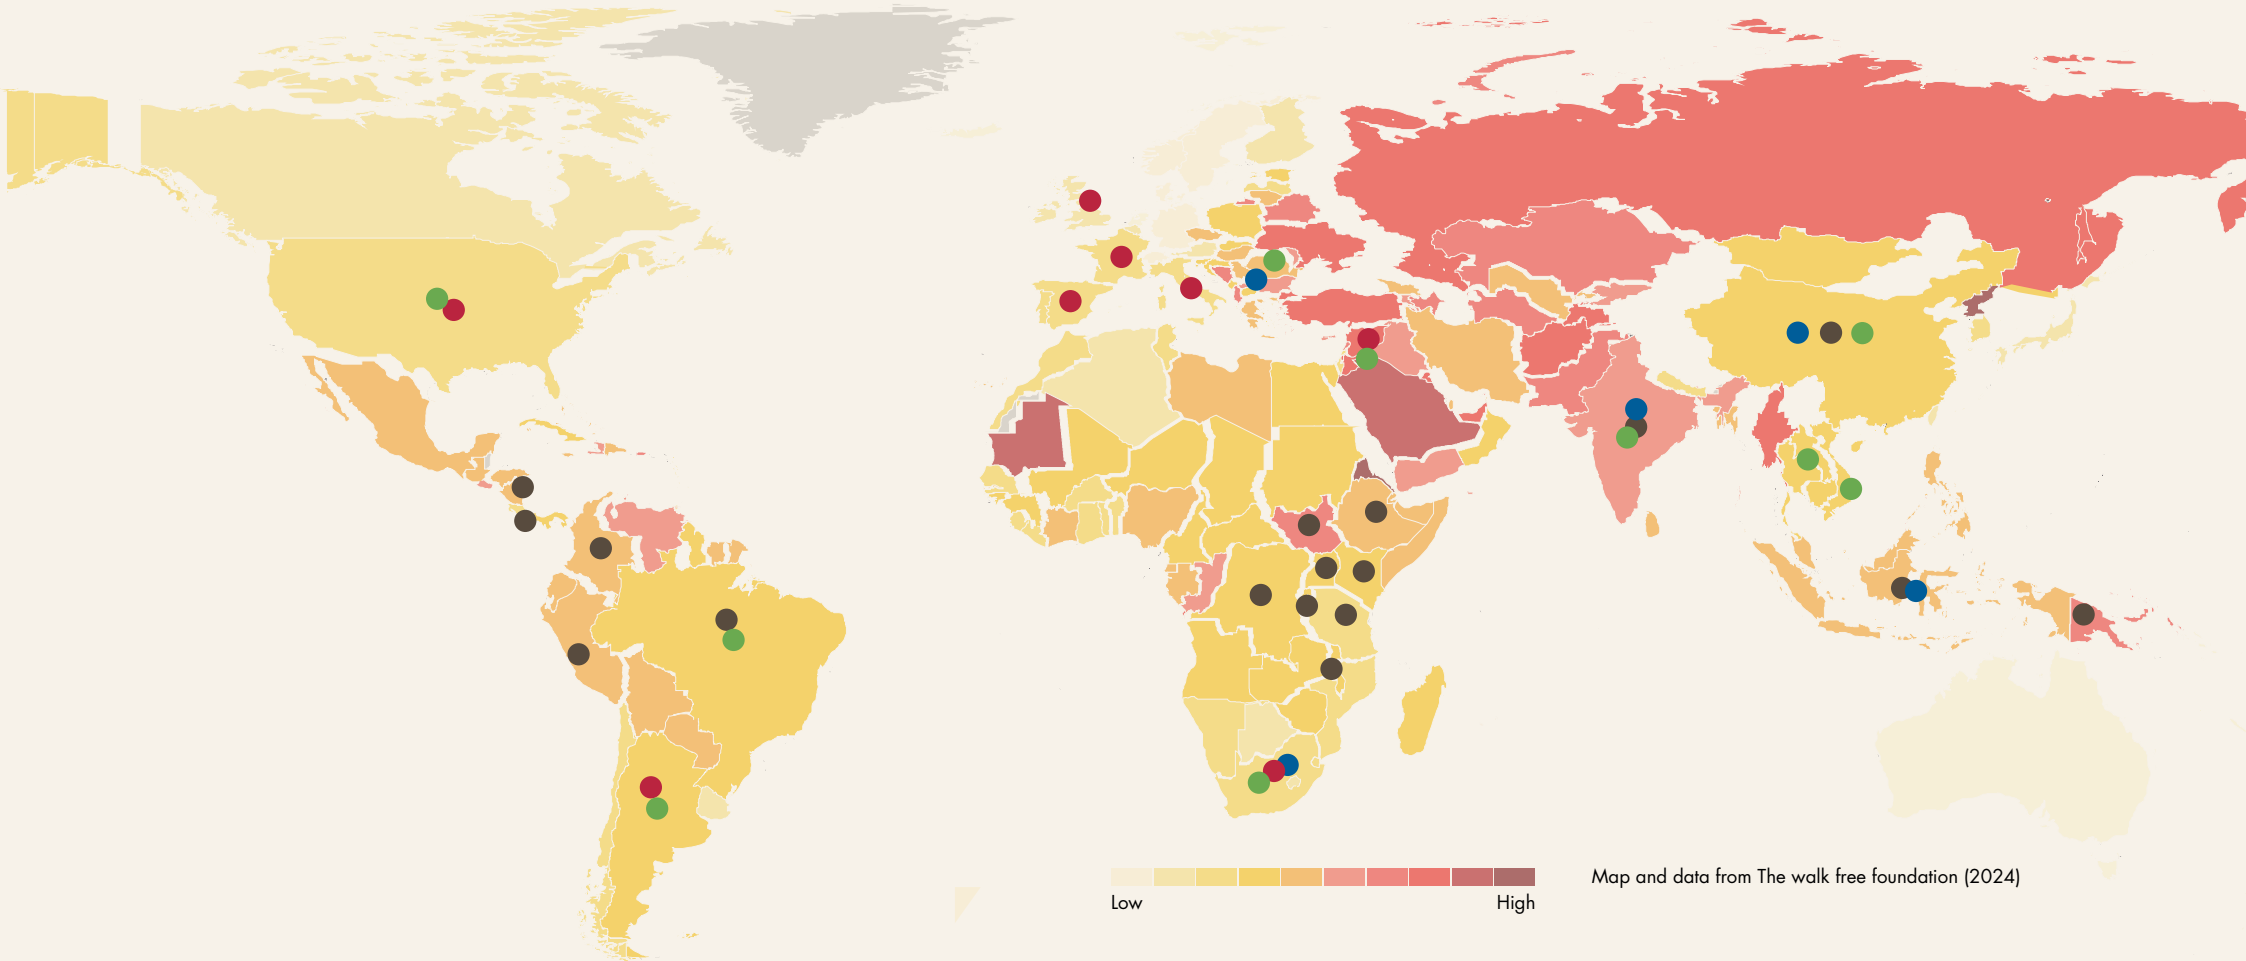
Human Rights and Labour Conditions Risk Assessment

In addition to the environmental risks in our portfolio, we also identify risks related to working conditions, the working environment and violations of the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Arvid Nordquist's coffee is roasted and packed in Sweden, and we have offices in Sweden, Norway, Finland and Denmark, where the risk of unfair working conditions and an inadequate working environment is low. The coffee beans themselves, however, are grown in countries with significant risks of breaches of international conventions. Agriculture in low-income countries is associated with social and ethical challenges regardless of the crop. Below is a mapping of the high-risk countries in which our respective product groups have their primary production of high-risk raw materials.



Map and data from The walk free foundation (2024)